

Oct. 5/1980 - Wash. D.C.

04.61 The Peacock Room (South Wall), 1876-1877. American painting by James McNeill Whistler (1834-1903). Oil, color and gold on leather and wood. 4.258 x 10.109 x 6.085 m. (167 7/8 in. x 398 in. x 239 1/2 in.).

FREER GALLERY OF ART
Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C. 20560 5 OCT 1980

Dear Mom & Dad,

I came into the Smithsonian today, and am having a sandwich now in the cafeteria.

This is a picture of a room decorated by Whistler which is displayed in the Freer Gallery, and is really very beautiful. I became interested in him because he was one of the characters in the "Lillie" series I was watching

Mr. & Mrs. E. A. Carlson
2825 98th N.E.
Bellevue, Wa. 98004

Last spring, Diane is going to be picked up by Marnie and will go over there after Kindergarten so I can stay here this afternoon.

We'll see you soon.

Love, Mary